IT'S TIME FOR TELEMEDICINE.

How to Build Your RPM Program

We can help you at each stage of development. You will want to follow the general structure:

1. Select your patient population - identify key device(s) for these different groups
2. Identify key team members that will access the RPM software
3. Identify key leader in your organization that will drive patient and clinician engagement
4. Identify if you want to hand out devices from your office or have Cura drop ship devices to patient
5. Upload patient data into software in bulk or load one by one
6. Engage patients during office visits and over phone for established patients
7. Provide educational handouts to patients for program overview and software sign in
8. Ideally demonstrate with patient the first time login and data entry in office or via phone outreach
9. Begin monitoring and engaging patient throughout the month
10. Identify when RPM encounter will enter into your billing cycle
11. Identify best workflow for processing through your billing software
